EmpXtrack will help US Companies to Lower HR Software Costs up to 50%

September 10, 2008. NOIDA (India)

The emerging leader in Performance Management Software EmpXtrack announced that their President and chief architect of EmpXtrack, Tushar Bhatia, will be visiting United States to close many Performance Management Software deals and provide insights to existing customers on how to improve the performance of their employees during the tough economy. He will be in US from Sep 15 - 21, 2008.

He will also be meeting HR Consultants and Experts to discuss the opportunities of lowering Performance Management Software costs using EmpXtrack. Due to tough economy many customers especially in small and mid size business are desperately seeking an alternate to costly Human Resource and Performance Management Systems (such as SuccessFactors, Taleo, Halogen Software) without compromising on the features and the ease of use. In a recent global SaaS Services survey conducted by DARE Magazine, EmpXtrack was featured as the most prominent Human Resources Management Offering that can keep the IT costs low.

“EmpXtrack can not only bring your IT cost down but also expand your Human Resources offering to employees with quality tools to manage their performance effectively. We are getting almost 200 requests every month from companies worldwide to demonstrate and implement EmpXtrack. Better software at a lower cost is our primary focus,” says Tushar Bhatia. He adds, “We not only want to add value to HR domain but also help to ease out the economic pressures.”

Tushar's visit at this time offers wonderful opportunity for HR Consultants and HR Managers to meet and discuss various opportunities that EmpXtrack offers. To fix a meeting with Tushar Bhatia, you can email at: marketing@empxtrack.com or call + 1 (630) 339 4155 from USA/ Other countries.
